

Daniel Ridge Tr-Cove Creek Section Loop

This hike combines part of the Daniel Ridge Trail and a section of the Cove Creek Trail. Most all incline is done by the first 2.5 miles and it's only 800'.

We'll be hiking clockwise on a gradual ascent as it follows along a fork of the Davidson River with beautiful cascades and waterfalls. About a ¼ mile we'll drop down on the fishermans trail (which I want to see if I want to come back to fish) that will connect back up with the main trail. Near the end of the hike we'll stop at Toms Springs Falls, which is definitely worth seeing.
